mydig.py

This program requires the use of Python 3.0+ due a library used in this program.

The library needed is dnspython. This requires pip to be installed on your system.

To use this program, you simply run the program using python3 from the command line. This will ask for a url. This is the url you want to resolve. After inputting a url, if it is valid, it will return an IP.